Presentation of the Mediation Forum

The Forum of Mediation Centres was created in 2001 by the Mediation Commission of the UIA. It brings together the most important commercial mediation and ADR centres from around the world and offers an occasion to exchange views on the development of ADR and best practices. It is also an occasion for centres to collaborate on specific programmes.

The meeting in Milan will be the 11th since the creation of the Forum.

Since the creation of the Forum, important changes have happened in the market of conflict prevention and resolution.

This meeting is particularly dedicated to following these new trends.

Med arb is a promising but difficult dispute resolution procedure. It is obviously needed but few practitioners and centres actually use it. We will discuss this procedure and see if and how we can make it successful.

Dispute prevention and the maintenance of ongoing relationships is an area of growing importance for the parties. The Forum will look at ways to provide efficient services to prevent conflict in contracts and discuss the possibility for centres to enter this activity.

The intervention of an Ombudsman is also one of the ways to manage possible disputes and resolve existing ones. Obviously Ombudsmen and mediators have a lot in common. With the participation of the International Ombudsmen Association we shall explore this important field.

The UIA World Forum of Mediation Centres wants you to remain at the forefront of conflict prevention and resolution. This meeting is to help you to do so.

Corrado DE MARTINI, UIA First Vice-President, Rome, Italy

9:45 – 11:00 Ombudsmen and Mediators

The use of Ombudsmen in public and private organisations is growing rapidly. Their task is often similar to that of a mediator though they may employ different techniques. The International Ombudsmen Association has kindly offered to share their reflections. A lot to learn for all of us.

Steven G. CORDERY, Ombudsman – United Technologies, London, UK

Thierry GARBY, President of the UIA World Forum of Mediation Centres, Lerins Avocats, Paris, France

11:00 – 11:15 COFFEE BREAK

11:15 – 12:45 Med arb

Med arb (the combination of mediation and arbitration) is a very attractive concept. There are many definitions of it. It raises a number of legal questions. We propose to explore the possibilities offered by med arb to make it an efficient tool of conflict resolution.

Colin J. WALL, Deputy President of the UIA World Forum of Mediation Centres, Hong Kong, China

Stefano AZZALI, Secretary General, Chamber of National and International Arbitration of Milan, Milan, Italy

Michelangelo CICOGNA, Partner, De Berti Jacchia, Milan, Italy

12:45 – 14:15 LUNCH

14:15 – 15:45 Conflict Prevention

Even through negotiation and mediation, conflict resolution is just not enough. In long-term relationships or in contracts for the completion of a project, conflicts should be prevented. Three experts of various conflict prevention methods will explain and help us understand how such goals can be achieved.

Colin J. WALL, Deputy President of the UIA World Forum of Mediation Centres, Hong Kong, China

Mélanie MEILHAC, ICC ADR Services, Paris, France

16:00 – 17:30 Conflict Prevention: A New Market for Mediation Centres?

The audience will be invited to discuss with the experts the possibility of offering such conflict prevention services outside the field where they normally operate

9:30 – 11:00 Non-verbal Communication

We all know that non-verbal communication is key to mediation and negotiation. It is also a fairly risky exercise to interpret one's body language. Non verbal communication very much differs from culture to culture. And technologies add new challenges. It is important for us to reflect on some fundamental principles in this respect.
