Roberto A. Jacchia, co-founding partner of De Berti Jacchia Franchini Forlani, leads the Competition and Intellectual Property teams. He is also in charge of the Brussels office.

Roberto's main areas of expertise are European Union law, pharmaceutical and regulatory law, IP rights, constitutional and international law, and human rights.

Marco Giorello heads the copyright policy department of the EU Commission, DG Connect.

In this position he participated in the negotiations recently concluded which led to the new directive on copyright in the single digital market

Mireille Buydens heads the Intellectual Property and IT Practice at Janson Baugniet with Hans Dhondt. She is particularly recognised for her expertise in the field of patents, trademarks and copyright, with extensive experience in complex IP transactions.

Alessandra Tarissi De Jacobis mainly focuses on transactional law practice areas, with particular reference to business law, including commercial law and corporate and M&A and joint ventures.

Her clients are from the entertainment, movie, fashion/retail, automotive, real estate, manufacturing and tech.

Alessandra is currently based in Los Angeles where, among others, has been granted with a merit scholarship in entertainment law at Loyola Law School.

Sara Capruzzi is based at the Brussels office of De Berti Jacchia Franchini Forlani.

Sara specialises in EU and Competition law, supporting the department on matters regarding different aspects of EU law, including antitrust issues and patent protection in the pharmaceutical sector, as well as the freedom of establishment and the freedom to provide services.
